NCVRT Vocational Education Council was established in 2009 by an article. 29 & 30(1) constitution of India and incorporated under the legislation of Ministry of Corporate Affairs, Government of India. Skills, knowledge and innovation are important driving forces of economic growth and social development in our country and country with higher levels of skill, adjust more effectively to challenges and opportunities in the global economy. India has had relatively strong economic performance in the past decade. There have some drawback to uphold the current situation of skill development and job creation. To overcome this pressure vocational education is the alternative option for the social and personal development. Vocational education can increase the socio-economic development of the developing country like India.

Vocational Skill Education plays a vital role in the development of human being as well as the nation. It is a distinctive investment in the present as well as for the future. Every country develops its own system of education to express and promote its unique socio-cultural-economic identity to support the existing potential opportunities. India, at present, is recognized as one of the youngest nations in the world with over 50% of the population under the age of 30 years. It is estimated that by about 2025, India will have 25% of the world's total workforce. In order to harness the full demographic dividend, India needs an educational system which is of high quality, affordable, flexible and relevant to the individuals, economy and to the society as a whole.

Presently, the country faces a mismatch in the demand and supply, as the economy needs more 'skilled' workforce. In order to offer a nationally standardized skill related programmes, the Government of India has notified the National Skills Qualifications Framework (NSQF) on 27th December 2013. It is a nationally integrated education and competency-based skill framework which provides multiple pathways within vocational education. It allows individuals to accumulate their knowledge and skills and convert them, through testing and certification by the competent authorities, into certification which could be a diploma, advanced diploma, PG diploma.

VOCATIONAL SKILLS

in High Demand Today

Vocational Skills training is training for a specific career or trade. Vocational training focuses on practical applications of skills learned and is neutral towards theory or traditional academic skills. Vocational Skills are in high demand, because not everyone has access to higher education, but vocational training can help you learn essential skills for career paths that are needed.
